The Earth is home for more than six billion people. So many people means that ...

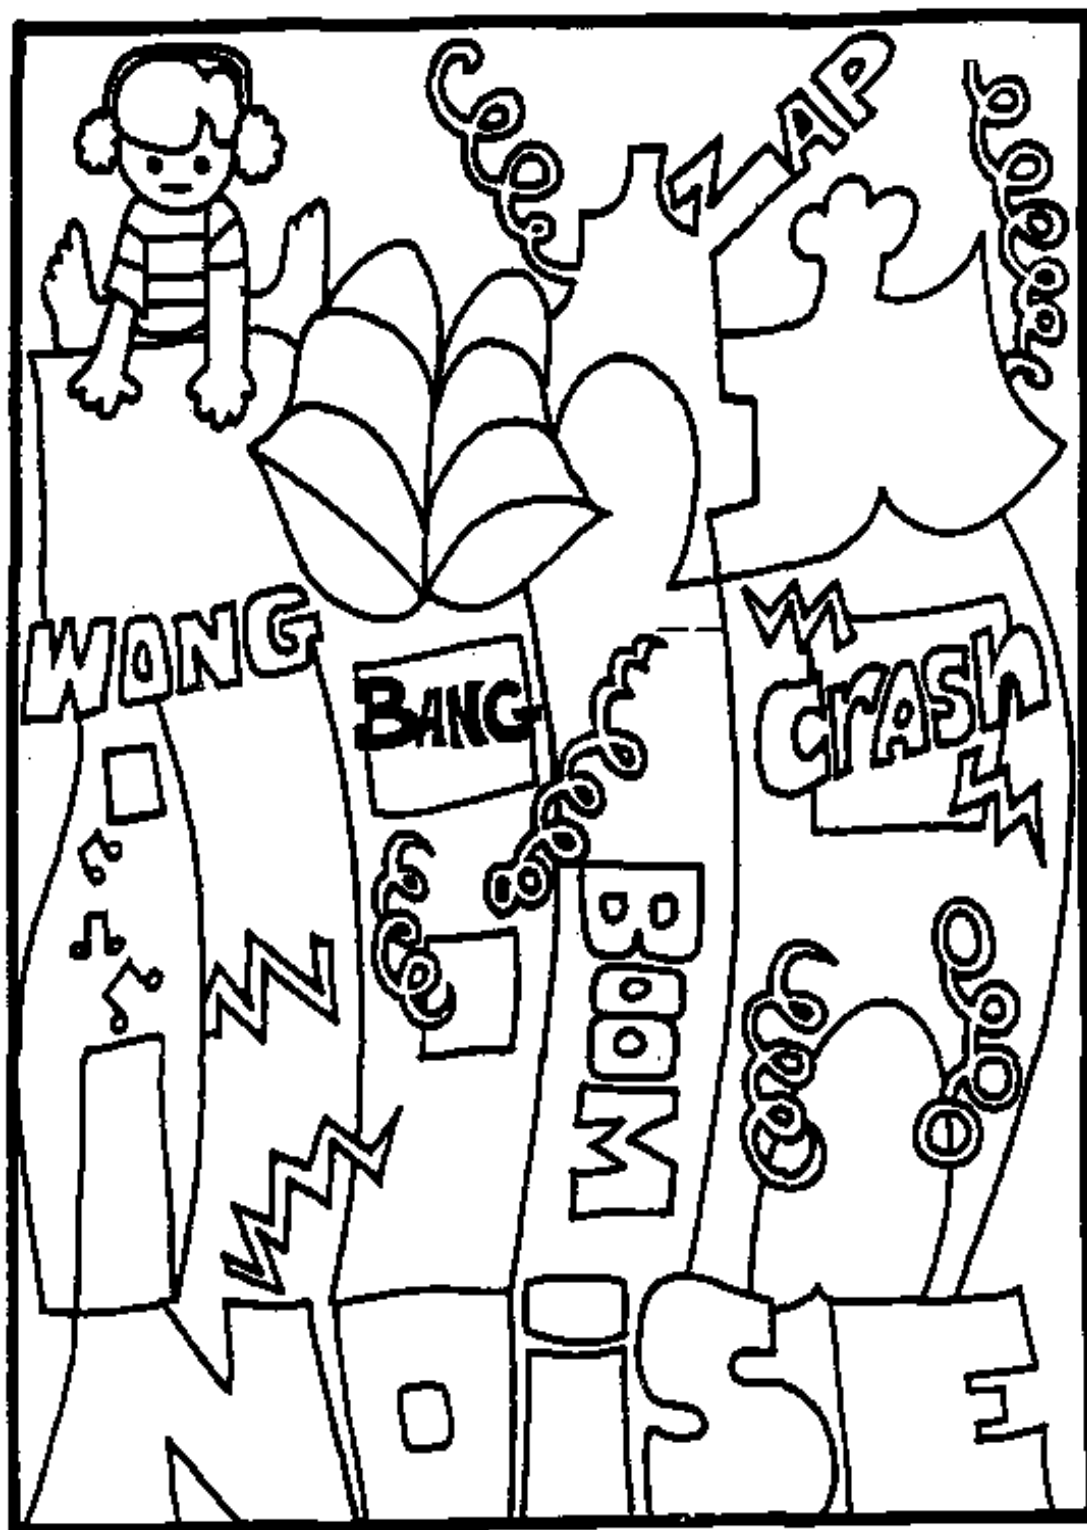

In a lot of places, houses are crowded together.

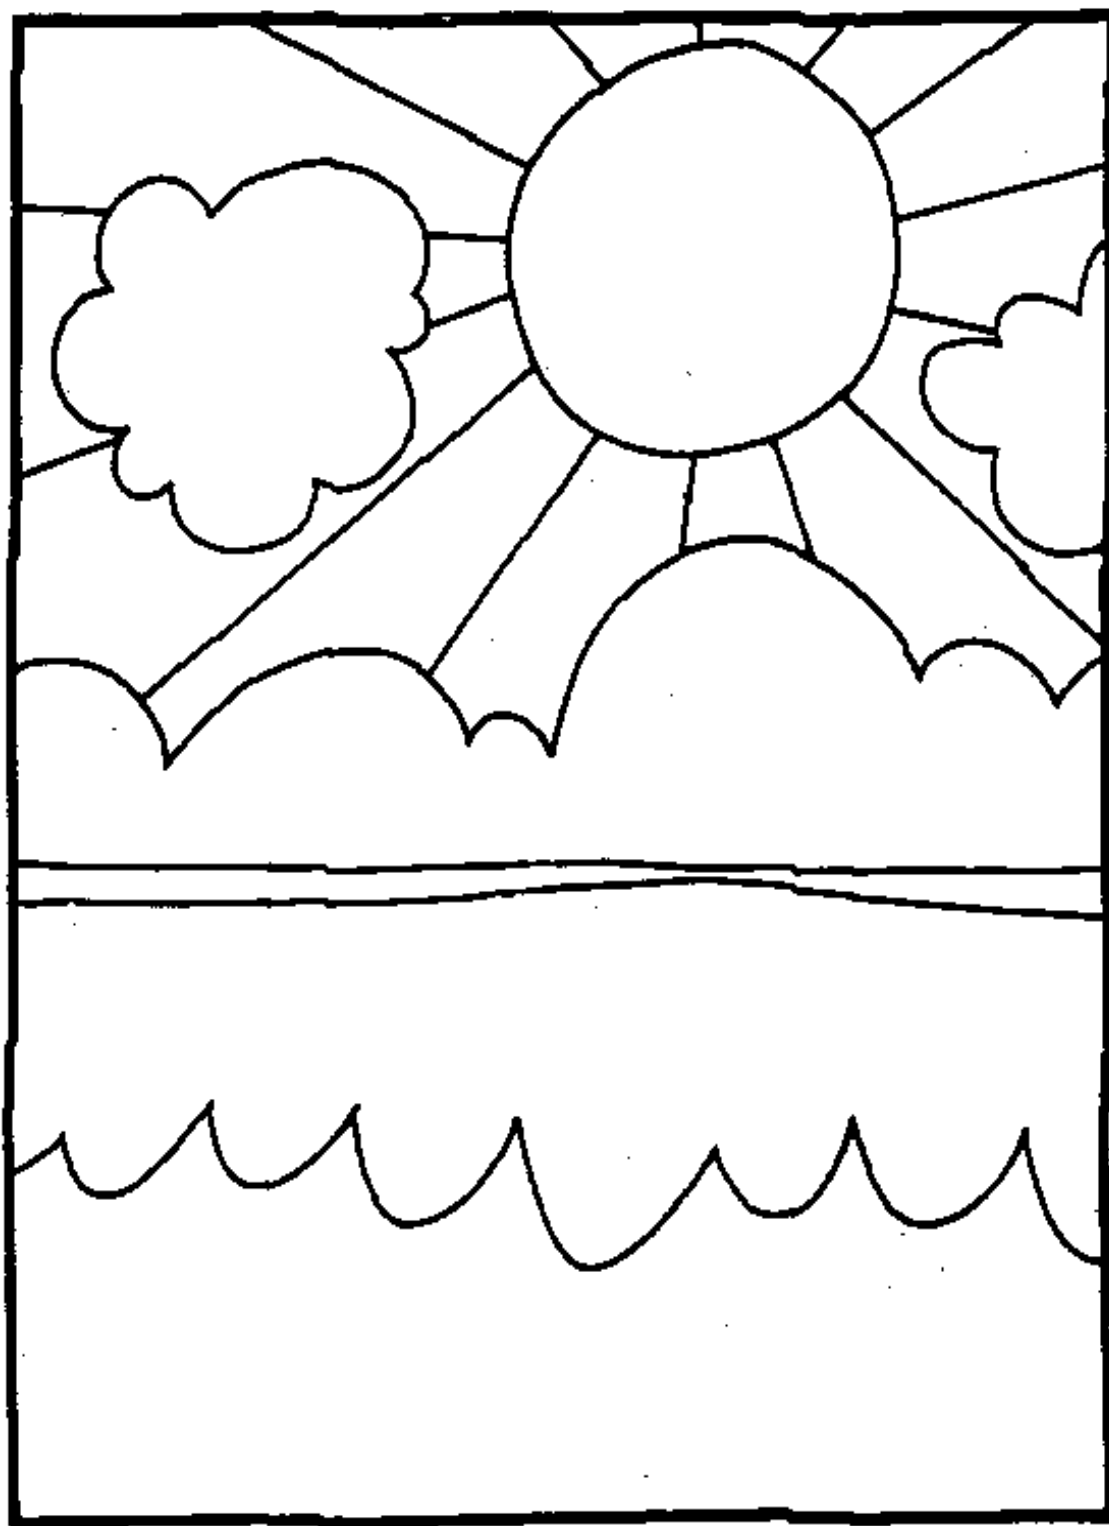

There is still too much dirty air and water.

There is too much traffic.

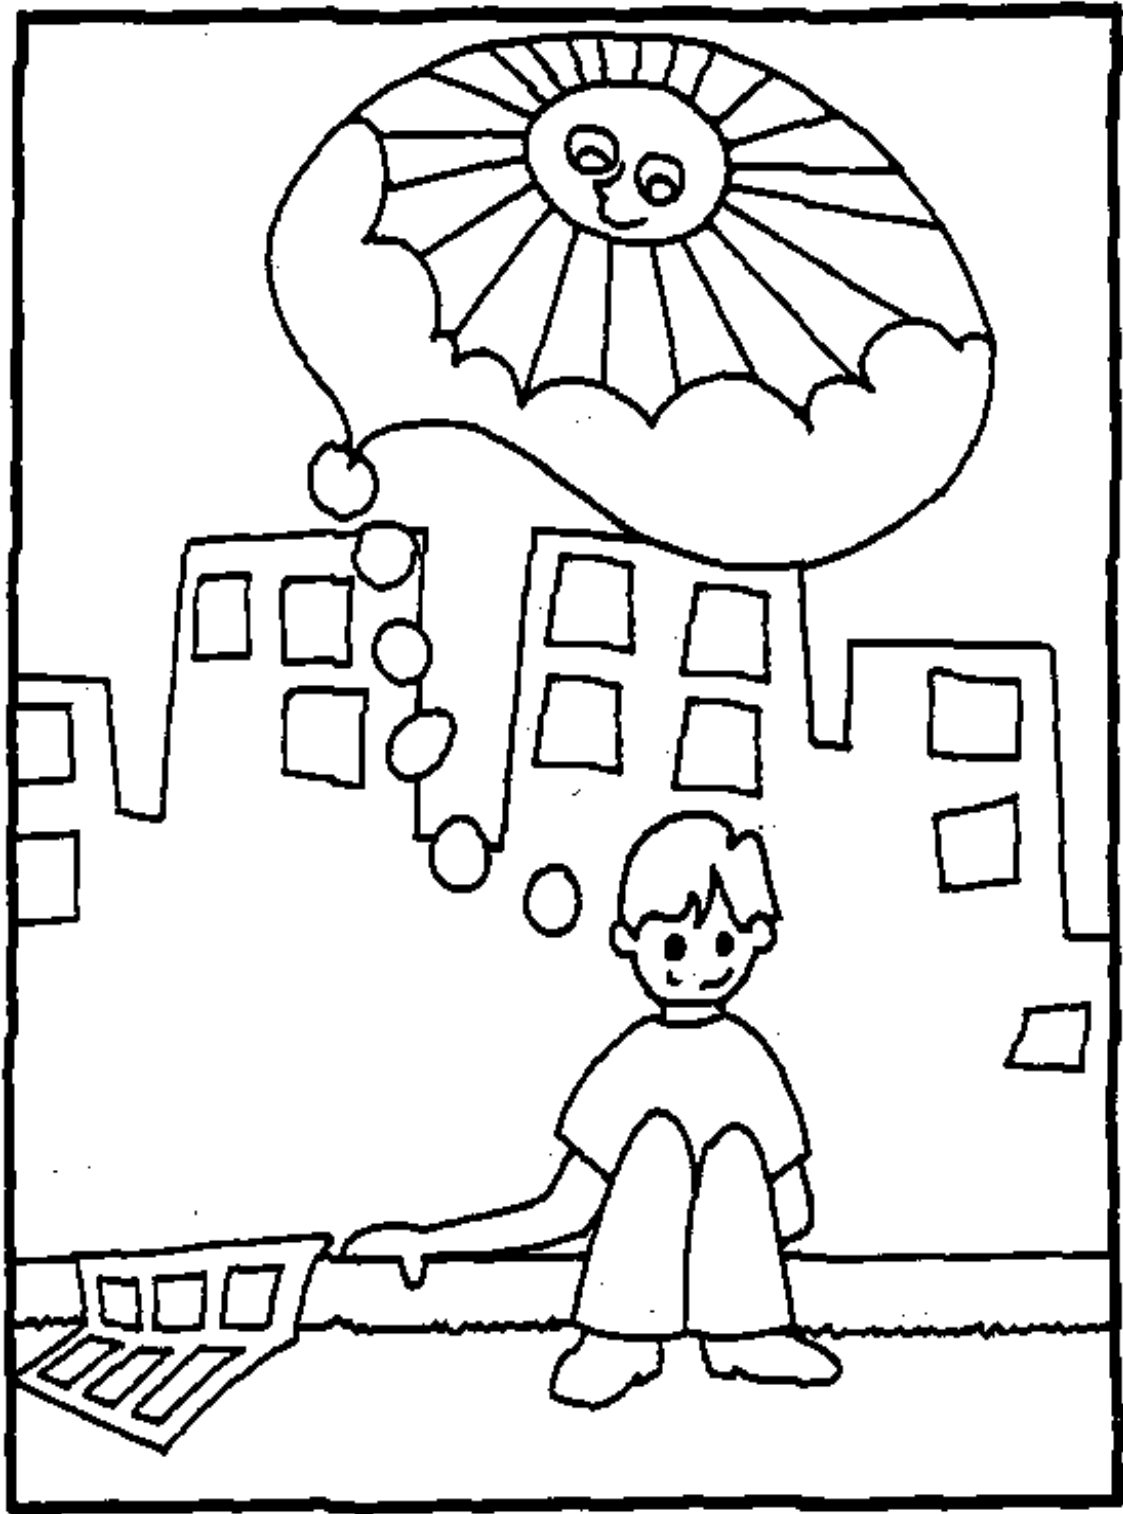

There is too much noise.

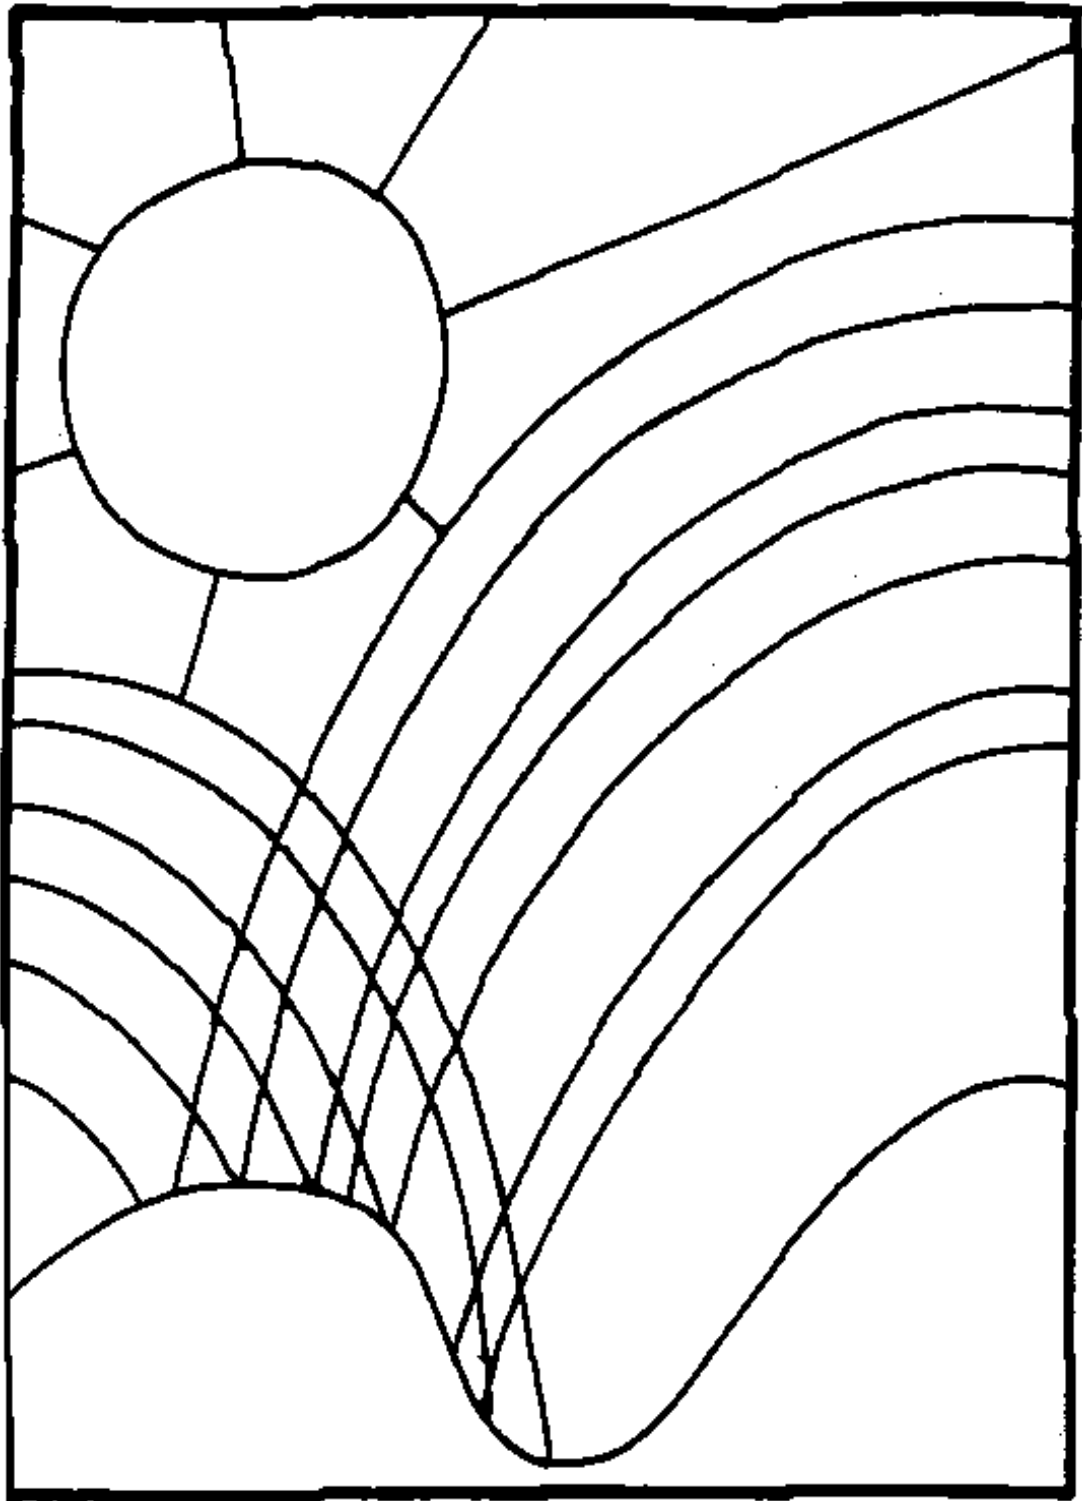

But things are getting better.

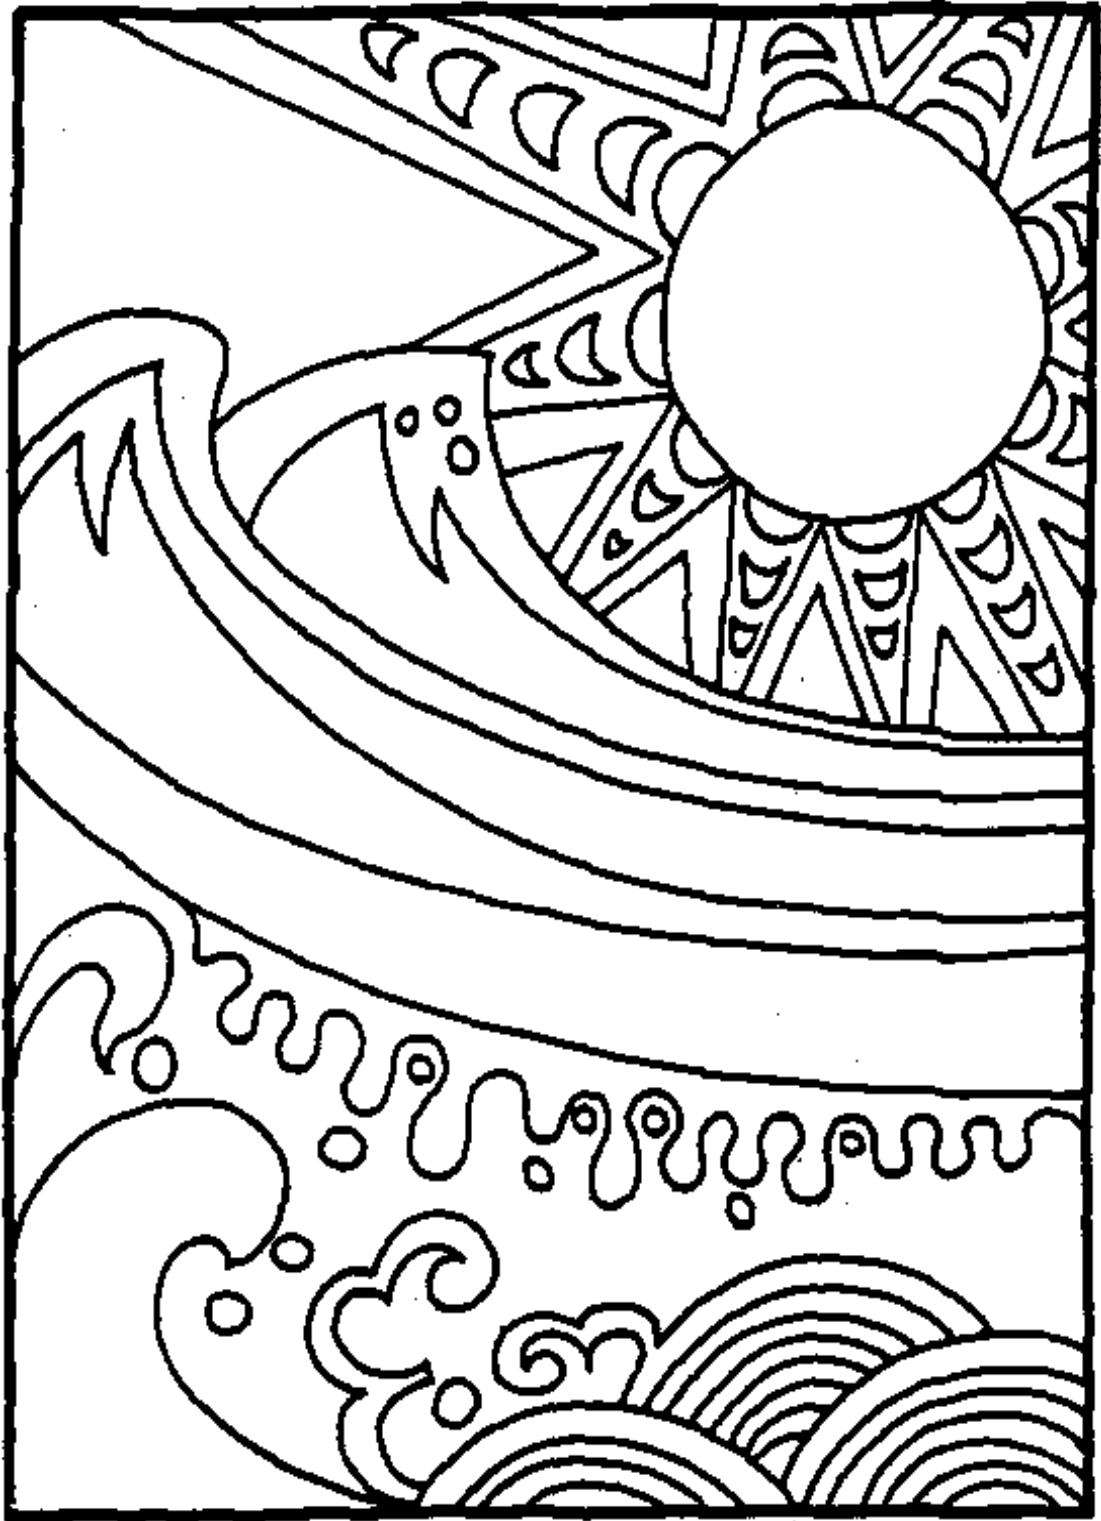

And there are ways we can all help ...

We can keep streets and neighborhoods clean.

We can restore the bright clear skies ...

We can restore sparkling clean waters.

We can preserve our unspoiled land ...

And someday the Earth will be a nicer place.
