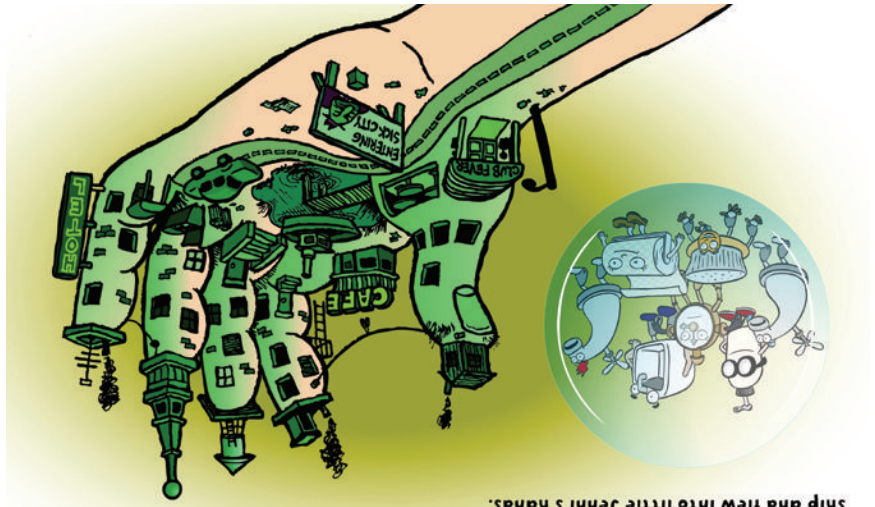
"Good work Scrub Clubbers!" said Ship Shape, "The Flu and his gang are back in Sink-Sink under lock and key! Jenni Fisher's hands are clean! You saved the day!"

"All thanks to Gel-mo!" said P.T., as she gave Gel-mo a big hug.

"Scilibity-bilibity," said Gel-mo as he turned into a dancing elephant, which made the kids laugh.



"We know what to do to fight the Flu!" shouted Squeaks.

"Yeah! We work together and wash him down Tank's drain!" added P.T.

With that, the Scrub Clubbers turned into soapernheroes, shrunk down into their bubble ship and flew into little Jenni's hands.

Influenza Enzo and his no-good germy sidekicks were in Jenni's hands waiting for them.

"Ha! Right on time!" laughed Enzo. "These clean freaks are no match for the kingpin of grime!" He looked at his sidekicks Sniffles, Hack and Sweats. "You know what to do, boys."

Enzo's sneaky henchmen snuck up behind the Scrub Club and took them by surprise.

"Oh no!" shouted Scruff. "Enzo and his Flu crew have Hot Shot and Chill! They're holding their knobs still so they can't make water!"

"How can you wash me away if you can't make warm water?" cried The Flu, stepping out of a shadow. "You can't! Ha ha ha ha!"

"Way to go, Gel-mo!" cheered Hotshot. "You stopped Enzo and his gang in their slimy tracks!"

"Yeah," shouted Taki. "Give me a high five with one of those clean tentacles!"

Next Gel-mo became a kangaroo and leapt into the air, landing on top of the Flu.

"What the hack?!?" shouted Enzo. "I can't move with this stuff on me. It's like... like soap and warm water! Help!"

Gel-mo sprung into action! First he dealt with Enzo's gang as they tried to run away from him, turning into an octopus.

Just then, Taki received a message from Ship Shape! "Scrub Clubbers! I see you have a sticky situation on your otherwise squeaky-clean hands. Don't worry! I have just the solution! Here it comes now!"

Instantly Ship Shape shot a package down from his satellite to the kids.

"I call him Gel-mo" explained Ship Shape. "He's made out of hand sanitizer! When soap and water isn't available, he can help fight germs!"

"Cool!" shouted Scruff. "And look! He can change shapes!"

"Yeah! Get 'em, Gel-mo!" shouted P.T.

"Meep! Skeedlebleep! Blurp!" said Gel-mo.

"This solution is the perfect solution to our problem!" said Squeaks.
